Reproduction Terms and Conditions

Photograph reproduction fees are charged for every order, regardless if the image is for personal or commercial use. Commercial use of images incurs a use fee in addition to reproduction fees.

A complimentary copy of each publication or production in which the photographic copy appears must be given to the Archive. If the product in which the image was used is a posting on an electronic site accessible by the public, the URL shall be forwarded to the Archive staff.

Permission is for one-time use only, as described on this form, with no other rights. Any subsequent use (including subsequent editions, paperback editions, digital editions, etc.) constitutes reuse and must be applied for in writing. An additional fee may be charged for reuse.

All images must be credited to the Fort Collins Museum of Discovery.

Example of format: Fort Collins Museum of Discovery, [image number]

For printed matter, the image number must be included in the credit line. The credit line must appear with the item or on a credit page, indicating the page number, for each item.

With films, filmstrips, slide presentations, and video productions, credit must appear with other credits at the beginning or the end of the production. Image numbers may be omitted.

For display or exhibition, credit each image within the display or exhibition area and include image numbers.

Website usage requires a credit line following the format above on the same page as the image.

The user may not misrepresent the image(s) used so as to falsify the information they present.

In authorizing the publication of a photographic copy, the Archive does not surrender its own right to publish it, or to grant permission to others to do so.

All responsibility for possible copyright infringement and invasion of privacy arising from use of reproductions is assumed by the user.
